

Our juror for the 2018 Member's Show:

John Brasaemle

Every painting must tell a story!

John is an aviculturist and an artist who has combined his passions into illustrations and watercolor paintings of birds. He has appeared in several bird related magazines and had covers on four different publications; and his paintings have been accepted and received awards into national and international watercolor exhibitions. Several non-profit bird conservation organizations have benefitted from his artwork.

Early in his career he had one-man shows of a western nature theme in Taos and the Denver area, but teaching and family dominated his painting time. He did find opportunities for scenery design and to illustrate trade books.

After retiring as an Elementary School Art Teacher, he has the time and focus to further develop his watercolor talents. John also shares his talent through watercolor classes at the Westminster Rec Center.

When painting birds, John strives to capture the individual personality and character of each animal. He has found the most successful paintings are those where the bird makes a direct contact with the viewer.

John is a frequent exhibitor:

- Birds in Art Intl. Exhibition
- Western Federation of Watercolor Societies
- Rocky Mountain Watermedia Exhibition
- Colorado Watercolor Society Exhibitions

Signature Member:

- Western Federation of Watercolor Societies
- Colorado Watercolor Society
- Wyoming Watercolor Society
- Kansas Watercolor Society
